

MASS LIVE

Leanne Sedlak's SkinCatering opens location in Springfield's Tower Square

Springfield's Tower Square celebrates 40th Anniversary

Tower Square is home to a new spa business. (Republican File Photo)

Jim Kinney, The Republican By Jim Kinney, The Republican

Follow on Twitter

on November 04, 2013 at 5:05 AM, updated November 04, 2013 at 5:07 AM

SPRINGFIELD — Leanne Sedlak, owner of SkinCatering day spa, is opening a second location downtown in Tower Square, 1500 Main St., on the second floor.

Grand opening festivities are open to the public and set for 5 p.m. on Nov. 14, according to a news release, and include gift bags for the first 35 guests, passed desserts, champagne at the door and a raffle to benefit the Melanoma Foundation of New England. The business already has a mobile operation and a spa in South Hadley.

"I would like to thank Leanne for her belief and investment here in downtown Springfield and, specifically, here in Tower Square," Mayor Domenic J. Sarno said in a news release. "This is another great story of a growing and exciting business and it is happening right here in our Springfield."

SkinCatering uses only natural ingredients to ensure the most beneficial, glowing treatments possible for sensitive skin. Additionally, the company is the first in Western Massachusetts to be certified by the Melanoma Foundation of New England for skin cancer awareness.

© 2013 masslive.com. All rights reserved.